

MOLDED PULP DRYING OVENS

Get the most effective pulp drying solution

A LEADING PULP DRYING SOLUTION

Abbott Furnace Company has provided commercial and industrial furnace solutions and service for over 40 years—tackling advanced furnace manufacturing and onsite service from dedicated field technicians. One of the top applications for our equipment is to dry molded pulp, one of the most sustainable, cost-effective packaging solutions that exists today. An Abbott pulp drying oven is the most efficient system on the market.

 Deliver a more sustainable consumer packaging system. Dry your molded pulp packaging with a proven system from Abbott.

MOLDED PULP DRYING OVEN FEATURES

Abbott molded pulp drying ovens operate more efficiently and safely than the competition because they are built and maintained by the most experienced technicians in the industry.

FEATURES INCLUDE:

- Belt widths up to 72 inches
- Top-down and Bottom-up airflow
- Adjustable Height Top Plenum for Various Part Heights
- 6" Walls of Superior Insulation and Cooler Equipment Surface Temperatures
- Powdered Exhaust Vents
- PLC Controls with Remote Connectivity
- NFPA86 Compliant Gas Heating System
- Large Access Doors to Ease of Maintenance

Is your production outpacing your drying capabilities?
Contact Abbott today!